Hello Year 4 - I can't believe that it is the last week of this half term already. Mrs Islam and I miss you all and hope that you are all well.

This week, I have bought a foam football and have been practising keepee uppies in house (and haven't broken anything yet!) which has been a lot of fun. I have been reading the Harry Potter books and watching the films and it is crazy how much they leave out of the movies!

I have still been receiving so many incredible piece of home learning. It makes me so happy to see all the hard work you have been doing. I have received a couple of recipes that I am going to try during the half term. If you have any tasty recipes, please send them in along with any fantastic home learning you do. I hope you have a great end to the week and a lovely half term.

- Imagine you are in the wild. Predators are all around. Could you build a shelter in your home or outside that could protect you. Once you have built it, tell me some of the things that are keeping you safe. There are some ideas on this website to help you out!

- Find a picture online of an environment, like this one, and write a setting description using your 5 senses. Remember all the amazing vocabulary we used at school. Also think about what animals live there and how does that make you feel?

- National book tokens has also got a writing competition, where you have to write a story of up to 300 word, using the theme 'Big dreams' All details can be found on their website.

When I bought my foam football, I gave the machine 1 note and 7 coins. What could I have paid for my foam football? Find 10 different examples and draw them.

On another day, I bought a box of my favourite cereal (coco pops!) and used 10 coins. It cost me £3. How many different ways could I have paid for my coco pops?

Here is one way.
