

HELLO!

Hello Year 2 - I hope you all have had an amazing week and are all safe and well.

This week, I made a marbled chocolate cheesecake which was absolutely delicious! I also took part in a game of pictionary with my friends on the computer and this was hilarious. To play the game, you take it in turns to quickly draw a picture and everyone else guesses what it is. One of the words I had to draw was a habitat - can you guess what habitat from my picture? I've been very busy this week with lots of odd jobs so I haven't had much time on my bike this week. However, I'm looking forward to going on a long ride at the weekend to make up for it!

Our learning theme for this week is Inside Out.

Use a dictionary to find out what each of these words mean:

Joy, Sadness, Fear, Disgust and Anger

Look at the children in the picture below. How do you think they are feeling? What clues in their body language (what they are doing with their body) can you see?

Make a collage about the five emotions in Inside Out (Joy, Sadness, Anger, Disgust and Fear). Include picture or word descriptions of situations where you might feel this emotion. For example, I would draw eating macaroni cheese next to Joy and accidentally spilling my drink next to Anger.

Earn 2 bronze medals (or better) on Manga High!

Think about what you did yesterday. Write a diary about some of the things you did yesterday as one of the emotions from Inside Out.

TC: Don't tell me what emotion you are writing as but give me clues in your writing. I have done a diary as one of the emotions on the next page - can you guess which emotion I was being?

Because school has been closed, we haven't been able to have our RE day with Matt from Southampton City Mission this year. Instead, Matt has kindly made an online learning pack of activities for you to try at home.

There are lots of activities to try on My Maths, Bug Club, Manga High and Education City. There are also weekly Maths and English newsletters of the school's website with lots of challenges, activities and competitions so have a go at these too!

I love seeing all of your work from home! Keep on sending your great home learning to year2@swaythlingprimary.org

Dear Diary,

What a horrible day it has been! It started off badly with my loud alarm waking me up so early. I hate early starts! Then I got stuck in a long traffic jam on my way to the shops. At lunch time, I ate a crisp and spat it out straight away. It was yucky cheese and onion. I must have picked up the wrong flavour bag accidentally. After that, I had to wash up a few dirty dishes from the day and it was disgusting! I wish we had a dishwasher. Thankfully, my evening wasn't too bad, although I couldn't find anything good to watch on the TV. Hopefully tomorrow will be more joyful.
